

Kinema in the Woods – February 2025

Here we are, near the end of February already, soon be Christmas.

Today we made our first visit of the year to the Kinema in Woodhall Spa. Forty of us venturing out to see the latest offering on film.

As is usual we stopped off at Horncastle Garden Centre on the way to enjoy a drink together with a teacake before travelling on to Woodhall.

On arriving we settled down in the cinema room to watch the film of choice, Bridget Jones - Mad About The Boy.

We all sat back, popcorn and ice creams at hand to watch it. It had it's sad moments but also it's funny moments too, to balance it out. Having not personally seen any of the previous films made this was all completely new to me. I could be wrong but maybe the film subject appeals more to ladies than gents, but that's my opinion, for what it's worth. I found the content a bit mixed, but hey! After the 'Spencer' film we saw a while back, anything is a huge improvement.

After the film we all boarded the coach and made our way back to the Horncastle Garden Centre to enjoy an afternoon tea of sandwiches, assorted cakes and drinks. Lovely. Followed on by a wander around the Garden Centre to see what they had on offer.

Eventually we all boarded the coach to travel home. Another enjoyable Kinema trip.

With thanks to Jane and Chris and also to Stewart the driver for getting us there and back safely.
